Luboden's.

The best of tea and coffee, at Neidemeyer's, near the Mound.

Try the "Fast Mail" line-out, sold by Newell & Hammer.

A full supply of fresh vegetables and fruit, at H. F. May & Bro's.

Order Harvey Downing's hack for a drive about town or a trip to the depot.

R. F. Taylor's hack line connects with all trains by day or night.

Call on Billy Niedermyer for choice family flour and corn meal.

Abel & Locke are the prince of carpet merchants for Central Illinois.

Everything in the line of paper hangings and window curtains may be found in all the latest styles at Abel

& Locke's.

To walk with comfort one must have an easy setting boot, and to get that, leave your measure with J. P. Marsh, and while there take a look at his splendid stock of ready-made boots and shoes.

Trade is brisk, and our merchants are happy.

Corn is rapidly ripening.

Eggs have advanced from ten cents to twelve and a half per dozen.

The "Julius Casas Combination" at the opera house, Oct. 9th.

Robert McWade is booked to appear at the opera house some time during this month.

Oysters are now legal tender for greenbacks.

A number of new shade trees are to be set in the park this fall.

The goose ordinance is now in force, and these beautiful birds had better make themselves scarce on the streets.

The sidewalk from court house block to Wood street is getting to be decidedly rough, and from the last named point to State street it is susceptible of improvement.

Saturday was a right lively day in town. Notwithstanding the country people had been in largely during the week in attendance upon the fair, they were out in full force for their Saturday trade.

We are in receipt of a copy of the

Toledo (Ohio) Blade's premium engraving of R. B. Hayes, which is by far the finest engraving yet published of our future president. It deserves a place in every parlor, library and office in the land. Any person can get one free, by mailing 50 cents for three months' subscription to the Toledo Blade.

H. Post is involving some very nice

Swiss and American watches, and a fine lot of jewelry, which he is selling far below list prices.

Receiving, this week, at Minckley &

Dodson's auction store on Merchant at immense invoices of gent's furnishing goods and notions, together with a large lot of fine watches and jewelry. Many of these goods are consigned from bankrupt concerns, and must therefore be sold at once without regard to price.

The public should improve the opportunity to get goods at very low figures.

The world never saw the like before,

and may never see it again. "A word to the wise," etc.

Correction.—Our report of fair premiums on carriages, which appeared last week should have shown the first premium on best top buggy awarded to Kramer and McClelland instead of to Wayne

Broas, as indicated in the report.

Free Lunch every morning and evening, at Fred. Deppes' saloon, under Rucker, Hammer & Co's bldg.

Premium Exhibitor.—Mr. John C. Peck,

the owner and exhibitor of the Fred. P.

Dooley patent churn, "Butter Maker," that took the first premium at the late fair, and the Cooper patent churn, which took the second premium, and which were marked features of the exhibition, has just closed a contract for the manufacture of these machines in this city.

Mr. Loeb, of the Gray Iron Foundry, furnishes the castings, and Mueller &

& Co. do the finishing. The fixtures may be attached stone or glass, as well as wood. These churns are warranted to bring butter in from three to ten minutes. The excitement at the fair was greater than ever known here over a churn. Mr. Peck received over fifty orders for churns in one day.

Excursion to the Centennial.—Mr.

J. W. Race, with a large party of our best citizens, will start for the Centennial on the Wabash noon train to-morrow. They go in special Pullman cars, via Fort Wayne and Pittsburg.—

Mr. R. has made very favorable arrangements for the party to return via Ning-ara Falls. Any persons desiring to join the party should make application to

Mr. Race at once, as no better opportunity will be offered during the season for a cheap and pleasant trip to the Centennial.

vention.—We call attention to the meeting of this Association, which takes place at Mt. Zion, on Thursday and Friday of this week. People can leave at 7.30 a.

m., by the Midland road, and again at 5.35 p. m., and can return soon after noon, or at six or about half past nine in the evening. The fare for the round trip is only thirty cents.

THE CHURCHES YESTERDAY.

Yesterday was in all respects a very comfortable day, the air was cool and bracing, and the late rains had laid the dust, so that there was no annoyance from it. The churches were well attended both morning and evening.

At the

BAPTIST CHURCH

The pulpit was occupied by the Rev. I. N. Hobart, superintendent of the mission work of the denomination in the state, who in the morning preached an able discourse in the interest of the enterprise under his charge, and at the close of his discourse took a subscription in its behalf. In the evening we understand that the Reverend gentleman delivered a stirring discourse, which was attentively listened to by a large audience.

The pulpit of the

FIRST M. E. CHURCH

was occupied by the Rev. Mr. Short, President of the Wesleyan Female College at Jacksonville. In the evening the sermon was from the words in Revelations, "On his head were seven crowns." The speaker explained that the personage referred to in the text was Christ, and that the seven crowns indicated his supremacy, and were a prophecy of his final triumph over the enemies of God and man, and the body of the discourse was devoted to a designation of the matters involved in the general idea of Christ's dominion. The discourse was able and instructive and held the undivided attention of the audience.

STAFF'S CHAPEL

The pastor officiated at this church, and in the morning delivered his fifth sermon of a series on Elijah, the Tishbite. In the evening he preached an able and earnest discourse on Temperance, which was listened to with marked attention.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH.

In the absence of Elder Haynes, Dr. L. A. Engle occupied the pulpit yesterday morning and evening. The discourses were both interesting and well received. Subject in the morning "The Security of the Christian." The speaker thought that in these times when people were looking after the security of temporal things, that our security as Christians should not be overlooked, and proceeded by scripture passages to show in what such security consists.

"Rip Van Winkle."—The Selden Irwin combination closed a very successful season of six nights at our Opera House last Saturday night. The faro-well entertainment was the popular drama, "Rip Van Winkle," with that brilliant theatrical star, Mr. Harry Rainford, in the title role. The piece, though a difficult one, was produced with admirable effect, and added another to the laurels won by this popular troupe during the week. The members of the company were mostly strangers to the Decatur people, and were obliged to win their way to the favor of our citizens, which they did to an extent never before reached by any dramatic company performing here, as was attested by the increase of their audiences from night to night until our large Opera House was literally packed.

The company left for Bloomington this morning, where it is to play during the week. We part with them with regret, and assure them that, if at some future time they should honor our city with a visit, they will meet with a cordial welcome.

Our business relations with the managers, Messrs Irwin, Hudson and Robinson, were such as won for them, personally, our highest esteem, and we take the liberty to say to the brethren of the press, wherever they may go, that they will be found to be gentlemen, with whom it is a pleasure to do business.

First M. E. Sunday School.—Yesterday was missionary day with the First M. E. Sunday School, and the session was a very interesting one. After the regular lesson exercise a liberal contribution was taken for the missionary cause.

Rev. Mr. Short, President of the Jacksonville Female Seminary, addressed the school in some very interesting remarks. Among other things, he dwelt somewhat upon the evils of intemperance, and exhorted the young men, and also the young ladies present, to set themselves decidedly in opposition to this overtopping evil, which really has the country by the throat. He said that society must wipe out this gigantic evil, or it would ruin society. His remarks were listened to with earnest attention and seemed to make a deep impression upon the minds of all. The Rev. gentleman's address was followed by a spirited song, when the session was brought to a close.

Boarding.—Mrs. E. Brownlee, having taken possession of the American house, at the corner of Wood and Water streets, opposite the court-house, is prepared to furnish pleasant rooms and first-class board, by the day or week, at reasonable rates. The patronage of all is solicited. [Sept 4th 86]

MARRIAGE CEREMONY.

Two Hearts Beating as One.—The financial Problem Solved—Justice is Satisfied and Rome is Free.

Joined in the bonds of holy wedlock, on Saturday, Sept. 2, at 3 o'clock, p. m., au M. D. officiating, assisted by a D. D. the Hon. Dan Democratic-Reform-Hard-Money Quixote, of Decatur, to the delectable Miss Dulcinea. One-Kind-Of-Money-for-Public-and-Private-Dues-Dei Toboso Granger, from the body of Macon county. No cards.

Congratulations were offered and spontaneous effusions delivered upon the absorbing topics of the day by the following attendants:

Chief Red Jacket, of Niantic tribe, delivered a dissertation in favor of demoralizing silver. Standing Bull, of Macon Agency, spoke in favor of speedy specie resumption. Little River, of Sangamon tribe, spoke in favor of greenbacks as a legal tender for all public and private dues; Sam, of Spotted Tail Tammany agency, in favor of a gold basis; Red Cloud, of Friends Creek agency, in favor of the trade dollar; Rain-in-the-face, of Illinois tribe, in favor of one kind of money for all, and equal taxation. Grand Chief Sitting Bull, of Decatur Cooper Agency, spoke on the subject of skunk in the pot, and in relation to the progeny of the present union. He made many happy hits, grew very very eloquent, but became reconciled when assured by the attending physicians that the best way to manage the skunk was to let it die of its own stench; and in regard to the offspring of the recently betrothed, they admonished him to become composed—that by a wise provision of nature, like a mule, such species did not propagate. Chief Nias Prius, of the Decatur bar-foot tribe, stated to all present that he made divorce a specialty, and in the present case when the time came to put asunder, he would only exact a small fee and furnish the witnesses free. Chief Limb-of-the-Law, of the same tribe, stated that he would most gladly file the bill for divorce without charge. Chief Rising Sun, of the Decatur tribe, gasping for a brighter future, and the big Injuns of hard money reform of the Decatur agency, who received a majority of votes, were so inexpressibly felicitous that they could not give utterance to a thought.

In all human probability there will be a grand reception given the newly-married couple in November. Carriages at the door. Upon this occasion, without further notice, yourself and family are respectfully invited to attend.

P. S. To arms, ye braves! There is a principle involved in the fight. The enemy are upon the war-path! Stand by your colors! Stand by your principles! Dare to maintain them! Reflect before you cast your vote! Be sure that you are right, see that there is not a cat in the meal. The Union is in danger; let us be men, not partisans. "There is a sublimity in conscious rectitude in comparison with which the treasures of earth are not worth naming." T. C. W. S. M.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. Geo. Cole, with Imboden & Son, left last night for the Centennial via Niagara Falls.

Dr. J. N. Randall, of Warrensburg, is in the city to-day.

Mrs. L. W. Hurd, of the firm of Falconet & Hurd, left on the 10.20 train last night for the Centennial. From there she will go to New York city, to visit friends and relatives, and buy fall stock of millinery, notions, etc.
